Livestock Auction

Gets Big New Plant

From a theatrical service sheet: "A man should be taller, older, heavier, uglier and hoarser than his wife."

Pictures today give an idea of the size of the livestock auction plant which Claud Sutton is building on U. S. 67 west of Hope.

Actually the photographs are of the auction plant at Mt. Pleasant, Texas — but they are accurate because the local establishment will be a carbon copy.

The main structure will measure 15 by 200 feet, and will include a commodious gallery for spectators at the auction ring. Those of you who have never sat in on a livestock auction have a brand new experience ahead — and the new gallery will accommodate more of you.

Removal of the auction plant from the heart of the city to its 72-acre farm on the west side is the most progressive step yet taken in local livestock marketing. Hope citizens who have noted the rise of big stock plants in other towns along U. S. 67 will now be able to point to their own as one of the best.

It's supposed to be ready for business within two months — and it will go a long way, out there on U. S. 67, to advertise to the world how our section has swung over to the livestock industry in the last two decades.

And Claud Sutton has traveled with it. I remember, when he was first starting back yonder in depression days, he had no safe in the office. His business was unique in that respect — all the other offices in town had safes but no money. But Claud would hunt me up at The Star office late at night after the weekly auction and ask permission to leave a sealed envelope in the newspaper safe. This went on for a couple of weeks, until I couldn't sleep either — so we compromised by parking the fiscal envelope overnight at the police station.

All that's long ago — but not far away.

For today all the farms have livestock, the livestock auction has its own safe — and now a new building to park it in.

Our congratulations to a fellow traveler through the dusty years.

Military Chiefs Discuss Jap Treaty

Tokyo, June 17 — (AP) — Two top U. S. defense chiefs arrived tonight for talks with General MacArthur which may break the logjam holding up a peace treaty with Japan.

Secretary of Defense Johnson and Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, flew in from Manila, where they had discussed defense problems with U. S. military chiefs.

The talks with MacArthur, beginning next week, may decide on what basis the United States may hold military bases in Japan as protection against the march of communism.

They will be joined here Tuesday by John Foster Dulles, state department adviser. Dulles, who stopped here briefly earlier today before going on to South Korea, said the talks will determine "if it is wise at this time to proceed with a peace treaty" for Japan.

Dulles said, however, he was interested in the political, economic and social issues, not "primarily with military matters." The latter was the concern of the defense chiefs—and MacArthur.

Derailment, Fire Ties Up MOP Main Line

Four cars of Missouri Pacific freight train No. 32 derailed five miles west of Hope shortly after 6:30 last night after two cars had caught fire and the main line was blocked for several hours.

The train, enroute from Texarkana, was stopped at the siding because two "hot boxes" had set two cars on fire, one loaded with creosoted poles.

In haste to cut the burning cars loose from the rest of the train four were derailed on a siding. A Hope Fire Department truck made the run to Guernsey Crossing to extinguish the burning poles.

The department could only send one truck. So trainmen hurriedly pulled the second burning car into Hope City Limits where it was met by another fire department truck which put out the blaze.

Shortly after 1 p. m. the main line was reopened for traffic. No one was injured.

Approval of Foreign Aid Bill Predicted

Washington, June 17 — (AP) — Early senate approval of a $1,222,500,000 foreign arms program was forecast today by Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader.

At the same time, Senator Knowland (R-Cal) told a reporter he regards a bill revised by the combined senate foreign relations and armed services committees as much more satisfactory than the original draft offered by the state department.

The committees informally approved the authorization measure yesterday after acting to limit President Truman's power to furnish military supplies to other nations.

In his original request, Mr. Truman sought authority to give arms to any nation whose defense he regarded as vital to the security of the United States.

The committees moved to limit such arms gifts to European countries by inserting language which Senator H. Alexander Smith (D-N.J.) said he will check with Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.).

Vandenberg, absent from the committee's sessions because of the recent death of his wife, had complained that the proposed authority sought by the President would let Mr. Truman "farm the world." He said it was too broad.

Bunion Derby Is on in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, June 17 — (AP) — The big bunion derby is on in earnest today in Los Angeles.

Nearly everybody dependent upon public transportation walked to work those who don't rely on street cars and buses got into their private cars and created one of the maddest traffic snarls on record.

About 100,000 Shriners, half the number who will be on hand for the annual convention starting tomorrow, arrived to find that street cars and buses aren't operating. Four thousand operators walked out yesterday to back up their demand for a 20-cents-an-hour wage hike over the current $1.47 an hour.

They also want three weeks vacation and elimination of split shifts.

Inasmuch as the Los Angeles Transit lines offered only four cents an hour increase and nothing came of the AFL-Electric Highway and Motor Coach Union offer to arbitrate, the prospect of an early settlement seemed remote.

"It looks like we're in for a long strike," said Mayor Fletcher L. Bowron after conferring with company and union officials.

Four years ago the street car workers struck for 25 days over wages.

To pleas from Shrine officials that the union postpone the strike until after the Shrine convention, union leader D. D. McClung said, "I am a Shriner myself, but this is a matter of bread and butter to our people. We've already delayed the strike once."

Anderson T. Ponder, age 87, a resident of Hope for many years, died yesterday at his home here. He is survived by four sons: Bernie and R. L. Ponder of Hope, Earl of Denver, Colo., and Mack Ponder of Brownsville, Texas, two daughters, Mrs. Sam Garrett of Magnolia and Miss Mamie Ponder of Hope, two brothers, John T. West of Durant, Okla., and Oscar West of Broken Bow, Okla.

Rowland to Get Hearing in Federal Court

Little Rock, June 17 — (AP) —

Former Hot Springs City Attorney Jay Rowland, who went to the penitentiary yesterday as part of his effort to stay out, will have a hearing in federal court here Monday.

Rowland surrendered at the Tucker prison farm to begin a one-year sentence imposed in 1947 for accepting bribes from gamblers.

His attorney immediately filed a federal court petition for a writ of habeas corpus seeking to free Rowland.

Judge Thomas C. Trimble set a hearing for 2:30 p. m. Monday.

Rowland's conviction at Hot Springs has been followed by a long series of legal maneuvers to have the prison sentence and a $750 fine voided.

Several months ago he sought a habeas corpus contending he was unlawfully under sentence.

The federal courts rules against him, saying the petition could be given no consideration as he wasn't in actual physical custody but was free on bond.

So yesterday he placed himself in custody and immediately filed a new habeas corpus petition.

The above is a picture of the huge barn and auction arena which will be the new home of the Sutton Livestock Commission. As announced last Thursday by the Star, Claud H. Sutton has started building a new and modern livestock sale barn for Hope. It is located on Highway 67, West, one-quarter of a mile beyond the city limits.

Mr. Sutton and the contractor decided on the building after visiting several new auction barns in this section. The pictures above were made at Mt. Pleasant, Texas and the local barn when completed will be an exact replica.

Lumber for the building is being cut and the owner expects to have it in operation by September 1.

Plans call for a building 150x200 feet with galvanized roofing and siding. It will be equipped with all modern facilities, including both heating and cooling systems. The sales office will be located at the front, along with the auction ring.

The Sutton Livestock Auction Sale is one of the larger industries in Hope. The weekly sales in the fall season will average around $60,000 and during a twelve months period approximately $750,000 worth of livestock is run through the auction ring. The livestock auction has become an enviable part of the livestock industry in all communities throughout this section and affords to the farmers a place to obtain the highest price for their livestock.

A weekly check at the barn has shown that both sellers and buyers attend the auction from an average of eight to ten surrounding counties.

In announcing the construction of the new building, Mr. Sutton stated: "I want to thank the farmers of Hempstead county for their loyal patronage which has made the weekly auction what it is today, and I also want to thank those who have made possible the necessary financial arrangements for this new building."

Firemen succeeded in keeping flames from reaching several gasoline storage tanks. A switch engine drew six gasoline tank cars from the area.

Winter Haven is in mid-Florida, about 40 miles east of Tampa and in the heart of the lush citrus district. The plant is about three miles from downtown Winter Haven.

Equipment from fire departments at Bartow, Lake Wales, Lake Alfred, Haines City, Lakeland, Eagle Lake and Auburndale aided Winter Haven firemen in bringing the fire under control shortly before dawn.

Three firemen were casualties—none serious. Chief Allen Lewis and another member of the Lakeland fire department were overcome by ammonia fumes at a refrigeration unit, and a fireman from Auburndale was cut on the hand.

Last winter he renounced future presidential aspirations.

Dewey said he had reached no decision as to his plans, but he indicated he probably would return to private law practice in New York City.

He said that in the last 18 months he has received several offers. He said they included the presidency of two large universities, a large insurance company and a business corporation.

He said he also had entertained a number of proposals for law partnerships.

He said that he had not considered any of them at length or discussed them until he decided to retire from public office.

The governor gave his decision yesterday at a closed-door conference with the Republican state chairman, William L. Pfeiffer, and national GOP Committee man J. Russell Sprague of Nassau county. However, he pledged his silence pending his public announcement.

He said that he had not communicated with the three other candidates for the nomination.

"I shall not be a candidate for re-election next fall."

Dewey said that he had voluntarily retired from public office twice before — in 1933 and 1941. He did not elaborate.

The 48-year-old Dewey's return to private life apparently ends, at least temporarily, a phenomenal career in which he parlayed his fame as a racket-busting prosecutor into two terms as governor and two luckless GOP nominations for President.

Hutchinson's Fate Back to Truman

Washington, June 16 — (AP) — President Truman will have to decide whether he wants a Senate showdown vote on his nomination of Martin A. Hutchinson to be a federal trade commissioner.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, told reporters he will talk to Mr. Truman at the regular White House legislative conference Monday about the Senate commerce committee's rejection of Hutchinson's nomination.

"I don't know what will happen to the nomination — we'll have to wait and see," Lucas said.

The committee voted 5 to 3 behind closed doors yesterday to recommend to the Senate that it reject the appointment of Hutchinson, who ran against Senator Byrd (D-Va.) for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Virginia in 1946.

Chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) refused to say how committee members voted. He announced, however, that five had voted to reject the nomination, three to approve it, two responded "present" and three were absent.

It was reported that Senators Myers (D-Pa.), McDermott, D-Ariz and McMahon (D-Con) supported the nominee, while Senators Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), Magnuson (D-Wash.) and O'Connor (D-Md.) were listed as absent. Senators Capuchino (R-Ind.) and Hunt (D-Wyo.) were reported to have voted "present."

AFL Official Speaker at CIO Rally

Washington, June 16 — (AP) — The AFL's political action committee whipped up a big pep rally for the approaching elections today.

Joseph D. Keenan, director of the AFL's political league, was a major cheerleader in a day long schedule for 300 to 500 top officers and workers of the CIO-PAC.

It was the first time that CIO-AFL political cooperation has reached a point where a top figure in either of the big labor federations was invited to address a national meeting of a rival organization.

In this connection, the AFL and CIO are preparing to meet for merger talks, probably to begin in July.
